DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is rejected because it does not comprise any method steps.

Claim 2 is rejected because it is not clear what "adding vapor to oils and fats" and "discharging fine bubble state of ozone" means. Clarification and/or correction are required.

Claim 4 is rejected because it is not clear what constitutes "bovine born oil", "pig bone oil", "residue oil of palm oil" or "residue of coconut oil". Also since animal fat is solid at room temperature it is not clear what constitutes bovine, pig, chicken, sheep, goat or horse oils. Clarification and/or correction are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 07053974.

JP '974 teaches treating a hydrocarbon oil with ozone and irradiating the mixture with UV rays. Water is then injected into the oil mixture. See abstract in its entirety.

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claim 1 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by JP2004238478.

JP '478 teaches contacting vegetable oil with ozone under UV irradiation. See abstract in its entirety.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP2004238478.

JP '478 has been discussed above. JP '478 does not specifically teach that the oil is waste oil or discharged oil. However, it would have been obvious to use such oils because it is known that waste vegetable oils are used to prepare biodiesel fuels. The simple substitution of one known oil for another oil to obtain predictable results is prima facie obvious. With respect to the types of vegetable oils set forth in claim 4, the general teaching of vegetable oil by JP '478 encompasses those of the present claims, absent evidence to the contrary.
